Victoria To Pay Half School By-law, Meeting Told

The $5,181,000 referendum to be submitted to Surrey electors on December 9, will provide funds for purchasing school sites, construction of new schools, board members told a special meeting Tuesday night. Municipal share of the cost will be $2,590,500 or 50 per cent of the total, they said.

The plan envisaged is a long-range one designed to take care of the rapidly increasing school population in the municipality. The referendum will provide for 98 elementary, 70 junior high and 15 senior high classrooms, as well as Home Economics and Industrial Arts rooms at junior and senior highs.

Board members pointed out that as the referendum will be made up of several by-laws throughout the year, the full amount does not become a charge on the taxpayers at the time it is passed.

The cost of the capital debt should not increase taxes for the individual to any great extent.

Construction will cover a five-year period with the building programme planned to meet increasing school needs systematically rather than trying to deal with them after they have reached the acute stage, a board member said.

"In the past, by-laws have provided only for immediate enrollment needs with little or no provision for the future," he added and went on to say that approximately $1,000,000 per year would be spent on construction.

"Of the 183 new classrooms to be provided, 51 will be additions to existing schools, and 132 will be included in 14 new schools to be built throughout the whole school district."

Enrollment figures projected to 1960 show that, if present trends continue, 16,000 pupils, as compared with the present 1956 figures of 10,500 pupils, will be enrolled in municipal schools.

All figures are based on exhaustive studies of estimated enrollment, made by the Town Planning Commission, the Municipal Planning Offices and information gathered from Parent-Teachers' Associations, the meeting was told.

According to the school plan outlined by board members, schools will be more strategically placed in heavily populated areas and within walking distance for most students. This plan will help to keep down transportation costs.

In locating the approximately a dozen new school sites the board decided to employ a qualified appraiser, thus they were able to obtain complete factual information on each site, with an anticipated saving of taxpayers' money.

Among the new sites to be acquired at a total cost of $114,475 two are in the White Rock area; one at Oxford and North Bluff and a second at Johnston and North Bluff where a Junior High is planned. A new elementary school at Oliver and Bergstrom and additional rooms planned for White Rock and district, include 4 rooms at Semiahmoo and two at Sunnyside.

COUNCIL BREVITIES

A delegation from Newton Ratepayers waited on Council Monday concerning the problem of policing the Municipality. It was pointed out that policing should be on a basis of 1 officer per 1000 population. Sam Smith, Ratepayers' President, complained of "slow service" from RCMP after break-ins at Newton Community Hall.

Councillor Kuhn and Reeve Nesbitt will go to Victoria with the dyking commission to meet with the Cabinet regarding the recent dyking survey.

Possible revision of tax notices to carry information re special taxes as asked by Sunnyside Ratepayers has been referred to '57 Council.

A letter from Geo. A. Cooke re need for zoning in Sunnyside was referred to the planning officer.

The Municipal Welfare Administrator was authorized to attend the course in Civil Defence Training at Arnprior, Ontario, December 3 to 5. He will represent Surrey at this course, as requested by the Civil Defence Control Committee.

Consecration Service Held At The Church Of The Holy Trinity

"We certify this church building to be free from any debts or legal encumbrances and do pray you to consecrate the same, and set it apart for ever for the worship of God, according to the rites and discipline of the Anglican Church of Canada."

These words, spoken by Rev. E. Pitt Griffiths, Rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, White Rock, prefaced a service unique in the history of the parish—the Consecration of the Church. They formed part of the "Petition for Consecration" made on behalf of the Incumbent, Churchwardens and parishioners of the Church and presented to the Bishop of New Westminster, who, with his legal and ecclesiastical assessors and Clergy of the Diocese, stood just inside the main door of the Church on Thursday evening last.

COLOURFUL PROCESSION

The Bishop having accepted the Petition and given his consent, the colourful procession moved slowly up the Church towards the Chancel while the choir and congregation sang the 24th Psalm, The Crucifer (Mr. W. C. Revitt) led; followed by the Registrar of the Diocese (Mr. R. T. Du-Moulin, Vancouver), the Bishop

(Rt. Rev. Godfrey P. Gower, D.D.), the Chancellor of the Diocese (Mr. W. H. S. Dixon, Vancouver), the Bishop's Chaplain (Rev. Canon T. F. W. dePencier, South Burnaby), the Revs. G. W. Hillary, Rural Dean of New Westminster (Whalley), G. T. Pattison, Rural Dean of Yale (Mission), H. Berry (White Rock), N. Calland (Abbotsford), T. E. Harris (Langley), B. Milton (Sardis), K. W. Mason (Cloverdale), D. F. Belway (Agassiz), J. E. W. Phelps (Crescent), A. S. Partington (Cloverdale), and F. W. Sharnan (Ladner). At the end of the procession came the Churchwardens of Holy Trinity—Messrs. W. P. Bishop (Rector's) and H. C. Cooke (People's)—and the Rector of the Church.

When the clergy and officials had taken their places in the Chancel and Sanctuary, the Bishop offered prayers for the purpose of the service. The Chancellor of the Diocese read the "Sentence of Consecration" which the Bishop signed and handed over to the custody of the Registrar. The Bishop then made the formal act of Consecration, tracing on

Forty Canvassers Start UGN Drive

Sparked by the local Jaycees the delayed United Good Neighbour Drive for funds got under way this week. Forty volunteers, some representing other local organizations, will commence the canvass, under the leadership of Jaycee campaign chairman, Stan Evans. Whole area to be covered, divided into 40 sections, lies between Bergstrom Road and Pacific Highway and from the Serpentine River to the border.

Chairman Stan also emphasized that a willingness on the part of residents to meet the canvassers cheerfully and give what they can will enormously assist in making the drive a success.

The campaign is due to close November 3.

W.R. Rotary To Sponsor Third Soccer Team

By Vin Coyne.

White Rock Rotary Club pledged full support to this community's recreational programme by announcing sponsorship of another soccer team in addition to their promotion of two younger groups in the Surrey organization.

Rotary will give financial aid to the 15 to 17 age group in the League, making a total of three clubs now under their leadership.

"We are already supporting two teams, and we are prepared to sponsor a third, as we have been since the season opened," a Rotary spokesman said Monday.

"Rotary said before the league opened that they were willing to sponsor this age group, should no other supporter be found, and that's what we are doing now."

By taking this step, Rotary has thrown its full support into the youth sports activity and into the youth leadership of the community.

They will finance uniforms and equipment for the team, who took over top spot in the league Sunday by virtue of their 4-1 victory over Whalley at the losers' park.

John Conibear was the big gun for the locals scoring three goals with Ralph Russell.

Dyking Delegation Goes To Victoria

A seven-man delegation will go to Victoria on the night of October 29 to meet with the Premier and his cabinet regarding the Dyking and Draining of the Serpentine and Nicomekl Rivers.

Members of the delegation which will represent the Surrey and Mud Bay Districts, as well as Langley City and the Municipality, will be Reeve R. Nesbitt, Councillor T. Kuhn, Parks Commissioner, Harold Burrows, Jack Brown, the Langley Reeve, Lloyd Cosens, Alderman Loit of Langley City and Don McGowan, Engineer. A representative from the Colebrook dyking area is also expected to attend the October 30 meeting in Victoria.

The delegation are asking for a survey of the whole area suffering from drainage problems.

Last winter the Provincial Government indicated its willingness to pay one half of the cost of the survey, estimated to be approximately $30,000.

Committee Prepares Incorporation Report

A detailed report now being prepared by the local Incorporation Committee will soon be presented at public meetings throughout the municipality.

All meetings will be held prior to the December elections, when an all-Surrey vote will be taken on the incorporation of White Rock.

The local Incorporation Committee is at present making a comparative study of taxes, percentages and land values of White Rock and the recently incorporated city of Langley and the village of Hope.

Walter Hunter Elected Bowling Club Pres.

On Tuesday, Oct. 16, a large turnout of members met at the Club House and received reports from auditors, trustees, secretary-treasurer and executive members.

All members felt that the past season had been very pleasant and successful in every way. Especially enjoyable were the inter-club games, in which the White Rock Club, as usual, did very well on both home and away games.

The highlight of the season was the splendid showing made by the White Rock rink of Geo. Morrison, Jim Hazlett, Andy Steel and Geo. Fairley, which finished in a tie for 1st place in the B.C. Championship games. White Rock lost out to Mount Pleasant by 2 points on a total points count to decide the championship of B.C.

They played some wonderful games and it was tough to lose on paper.

Semiahmoo Loses To North Surrey

By JIM COYNE

North Surrey all but quenched Semiahmoo's hopes of a spot in the finals when they beat the White Rock squad 3-1.

Lloyd Cosens accounted for the lone Semi goal. The game was played at North Surrey, October 17.

The next day, at their home grounds, the Semi boys ran wild over Princess Margaret High, whipping the visitors 6 to 1.

Doug Ramsden and Earl Ready notched two goals each. Lloyd Cosens and Gurd Van de Meulen booted in one each. On Wednesday, October 24, Semiahmoo hosted Queen Elizabeth High.

Letters to the Editor

Letters published in this column are the sentiments of the writers themselves and are not necessarily subscribed to by the Editors.

433 Ave. D.S. Saskatoon, Sask. Oct. 12th, 1956.

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

The Federal Government has for the fifth time within a year raised the interest rate charged by the Bank of Canada to other banks. The announced intention being to curb inflation. The results the people are led to expect from this increase in interest rates are hardly what the producers get out of it. The cost of living index shows that for July, 1956, retail prices are the highest in our history.

Higher interest rates make things more difficult for small and middle-sized farmers, city workers and young people generally are often more or less compelled to operate on borrowed funds. Big business gets rich out of higher interest rates. They have in their industries financial reserves they can use to expand when that is profitable. The control of inflation by our government should be done in such a way as to put the burden on those people who are best able to bear it. Our Federal Government might restore the excess profits tax, which tax was discontinued some time ago. Other national governments tax capital gains, why can't Ottawa? Our Government is making things harder for those who work for a living, and easier for those who are already assured of an easy living. Will this action help our country meet the present inflationary trend in the best interests of our farmers and workers?

ROY REID.

W.R. Play Excels Festival Material

By Madge Helmer.

In selecting "The House of Bernarda Alba" as the White Rock Players' entry for the Drama Festival, Franklin Johnson has chosen a vehicle presenting great challenge to both director and actors.

Although the play is practically without plot it depicts with vivid intensity the importance of keeping the reputation of the family, or "house," inviolate.

Felice Mitchell, in the role of Bernarda Alba, an iron-willed, viciously-dominating widow with five daughters, is as always, superb.

Sheila Lane's portrayal of the hunchback daughter, Marterio, crippled by Bernarda's heavily-wielded cane, and with a smouldering resentment against her deformity, is a very real and convincing character.

Etta Murphy as the youngest and prettiest daughter, Adela, is the only one of the five daughters who has the courage to rebel; and finally tragically, escape from Bernarda's domination.

The mad grandmother, as portrayed by Lorraine Amos, brings a touch of pathos to the play. The part of La Ponda, companion-housekeeper to Bernarda, is well acted by Elizabeth McKie, even though her voice is at times disconcerting.

The acting throughout is excellent and the entire cast projects the undercurrent of hatred against each other and against Bernarda, most effectively. The sudden outburst of passion and cruelty so much a part of the Spanish temperament, and the devastation created by one man in a household of women where the mere mention of a man is practically tabu, present wide scope for emotional acting.

"The House of Bernarda Alba" is excellent material for the Festival entry.

The play runs at the Little Theatre until Saturday night.

Community Profile

William Roy Brown
Dynamic Recreational Leader
By C.M.A.

Though William Roy Brown, director of White Rock's Recreational Centre on Washington Avenue, and organizer of the very popular Square Dance sessions there for both adults and teen-agers, claims he has had one bad habit all his life, he has accomplished a tremendous amount of recreational work in B.C. in his life-time.

The bad habit he admits to is "sticking my neck way, way out for something I firmly believe is right and for the benefit of youngsters and unfortunates."

That adds up to a pretty fine philosophy of public service which the career of W.R. to date amply proves. His life in White Rock (he came here in 1954 to open the very fine King George Rest Home out on the highway) has seen no letting up in his activities along recreational lines. If his plans materialize—and he immediately strikes the observer as a man who does not easily accept any gloomy view when worthwhile community projects are afoot, White Rock stands to gain a great deal from his living here.

That career in physical education and welfare and recreational work began when William Roy was only 15 years of age.

"It was in the old YMCA building on Cambie Street, Vancouver, that I made my start," he recalls. "I was a member of the YMCA under the late Frank Filmer, then Physical Director of the Y."

When he had progressed to membership in the Y Leaders' Corp the young man then and there determined that he would become as proficient and versatile as possible in all phases of Physical Education and Recreational Work.

"ALL ROUND" LEADER
Characteristically, he immediately put his decision into action. He studied hard on theory and practiced long hours on practice work, which ran the full gamut from chess to advanced gymnastics and High Trapeze work.

In 1925 young Brown was appointed Director and Life-guard for the Community of Powell River by the Powell River Company Limited. In this up-coast paper Company town he spent 15 years teaching over 2000 youngsters and adults swimming, diving and life-saving. His Physical Education groups and classes included those aged from 8 to 80, he reminisces recalls.

As though all these were not enough to keep several men busy, dynamic W.R. organized citizenship and public speaking clubs as diversional recreation for those who did not care for the more active forms.

"Some of my former pupils of 20 years ago and also some parents of former pupils, now reside here in White Rock," he says.

In all this, Mr. Brown found time to assist as Scoutmaster of the 22nd Powell River troop for two years. He also organized the first Powell River Amateur Swing Club and was a member of the Powell River BPO Elks, the local Board of Trade and other community service groups.

IT'S THE SPIRIT

If getting things done is not so much a matter of how many projects you tackle, but the spirit and "know how" you bring to multifarious jobs then W.R. is the best exponent of that theory it is possible to meet in many miles of travel.

Nor, in spite of his modesty, has his career of community service gone unrewarded. He is the holder of the Bronze Medallion, First Class Instructor, Honorary Associate and Honorary Representatives Certificates in the Royal Life-Saving Society for work in that branch.

JOINS RCAF

Then came the war. In 1942 he joined the RCAF and after a short course in basic training was posted to RCAF training school where he was soon promoted Corporal and a month later, Sergeant. Six months later he was commissioned as Pilot Officer and in April, 1943, he returned to Trenton to assist in the training of officers and NCO's. Here he was assigned to the job of physical training which also included drill and discipline.

Again revealing his native drive and initiative PO Brown inaugurated the first course in Swimming and Life-Saving as well as in Unarmed Combat for the Air Force. Both of these subjects soon became a "must" for Potential Physical Education NCO's, he says. After being posted to Sea Island RCAF Station, he was put in charge of Physical Training and Drill and Discipline there.

"I am proud to say that one of the best PT instructors in the RCAF at this time was Station Sergeant-Major, Jim Shaw," Mr. Brown declares.

In 1945 Pilot Officer Brown retired from the Air Force—though by now he was Flying Officer Brown. In February, 1946, he was appointed Director of Physical Education and Recreational Therapy at the Provincial Mental Hospital at Essondale, by Dr. W. L. Crease and the Provincial Secretary's Department at Victoria. Here he was given full authority to proceed with the organizing of any form of recreational therapy he deemed valuable to the rehabilitation of patients of the institution.

Some measure of the success he attained in this work is indicated by the fact that during his nine years at Essondale the Recreational Therapy staff grew from one member to nine. A very inadequate play area had increased to a full quota of ball fields, tennis courts, archery range, bowling alleys and swimming pool. A combined auditorium, gymnasium, church and theatre, costing a quarter of a million dollars had also been built.

Not long after Mr. and Mrs. Brown opened the King George Resthome, W.R. once more got into community work. His activities have grown steadily ever since. He organized his popular square dance sessions at the Canadian Legion on Johnston Road, this year moving to downtown White Rock to his newly-acquired Recreational Centre. The bright lights shining out on Washington Avenue on many evenings and the sounds of gay music tell all passers-by that the therapy of dancing, music and good companionship can work here in White Rock as it did in all the centres in which W.R. has organized community activities.

The COMMON ROUND

A.J.P.

CONFORMITY is the watch word of the 1950's and for people of all ages it would seem it is "better to be dead than not in step." In fact, the rage for "doing as others do" has hit even that stronghold of individualism, London, if one is to judge by news emanating from Montreal. An article on the subject of the increasing popularity of coffee houses in the ancient city on the Thames, chortlingly points out that "many of the new coffee places do not even bother to serve tea anymore." This is hitting in the spot where it will likely hurt most for a lot of confirmed tea-drinkers, though the Montreal article in question obviously feels that if anyone is backward enough to prefer a "dish of tea" to a "cup-a-jawee" he must certainly have something wrong with his head—his stomach doesn't matter, of course. He has conformed to the prevailing fashion. Three cheers! On with conformity, at any price.

FOR MY PART it makes me feel a little sad to see some of the last walls of defence against the invading tide of "do as I do-isim" going down in this ignominious fashion.

If anyone wants coffee, who would deny him the pleasure? But equally, if a man wants a cup of tea why should not those who are supposed to cater to the eating and drinking habits of a people see that he gets one? And on the same terms as he who got the coffee?

REVERSING THE TREND of immigration or emigration as indicated in statistics released on the number of Canadians leaving Canada for the U.S.A., is the aim of a campaign put on by the Federal government. They are out to lure young Americans to Canada, particularly of skilled man-power. First shot in the campaign according to a report from the Financial Post was to send two experienced immigration officers to the States to size up the possibilities of recruiting Americans to come north to a new land of opportunity. Vancouver's out-spoken James Sinclair, Fisheries Minister at Ottawa, has taken up the fight to get some of our own—or at least as good—man-power back. He told a meeting of the Audit Bureau of Circulations in Chicago recently that "The U.S. actually has a debt to pay back to Canada in this matter. We are now getting about 10,000 immigrants a year from the U.S. but we need more."

If Jimmie, or any other Canadians, can reverse the trend—even to an appreciable extent—it may do a lot of good for U.S.-Canada public relations for us to have a shot of good American blood up here north of the border. But if they keep up tactics supposed to have developed over American manning of the Far North Dew line. Though that, I suspect, is due more to a lackadaisical Ottawa administration than to Yankee desire to walk all over Canadian patriotic sensibilities.

JUST WHEN WE BEGIN to feel confident we may be successful in encouraging many of those expatriates who have been leaving Canada in such numbers to return home—for it is highly likely most of those coming north will be Canadian by birth or descent—we read of American recruiting agents coming to our universities. They are expected to visit the larger campuses next spring on the look out for engineers. It looks as though we can't win. But as Winston Churchill once said during the war concerning England-American relationships "we are going to be very much mixed up together before this conflict is over." Canada and the U.S. have been pretty well mixed up together for many years now and, for the good of the whole Anglo-Saxon world, it will be well if the process is continued. With due attention to individual rights, of course.

This and That

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else. — Charles Dickens.

So long as we love we serve; so long as we are loved by others I would almost say that we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

TOAD TRUTHS.

Although toads discharge a glandular secretion nauseating to most creatures who attempt to molest them, the secretion, in contact with human skin, does not cause warts, as is often believed. Neither are the stories we hear of toads found alive and well after years of imprisonment sealed in cavities in rocks and walls, correct.—Forestry News.

THAT NOISE.

When you toss around in bed at night, and just can't get to sleep, You try all the so-called remedies, even that of counting sheep. I had my turn the other night, and as more restless I became, On that humming Diesel engine, I most surely put the blame At work on those railway freight cars, switching, crashing, banging. Could I have dealt with those responsible, would be just short of hanging. Year in, year out this nuisance, like a scourge around our neck, One can't be blamed for thinking, they're out to this resort wreck.

Not hard to guess my feelings, as I tossed around in bed, Annoyed, distressed and all that, and really feeling red. What would I do to the railway, if I could have my way. But we'll not go into that, for as I realized next day, The night was very stormy, that noise, I won't forget, Was, wind blasting thru the cables of our Television Set.

W. F. MCCLINTOCK.

Out Of The Horse and Buggy Era

People who are inclined to gasp at the size of the figures revealed in the School Board's long-range plan for school buildings, should remind themselves that we passed out of the horse and buggy days quite a few years ago.

We can't go on talking of this municipality being the largest and fastest-growing one in all Canada, and not accept the responsibilities that go with such importance. Nor can White Rock, which looks to future residential growth within its environs for prosperity, fail to be realistic about that future and the part schools must inevitably play in the hoped-for development.

If more and more families are to come here to reside and bring up their children they will ask one very important question: What kind of schools are there?

Quite possibly the fact that our schools have had to get along on a basic programme has kept many a family from taking up residence here in the last few years.

To date, Surrey Schools have not had the three-fold system of elementary, junior and senior high schools which prevail in every other area of comparable importance. School courses as laid down in Victoria cannot be given here. Without these three types of schools, children in School District No. 36 cannot receive an education equal to the education available in other districts. At the present, Grade Seven pupils do not receive Home Economics and Industrial Arts courses.

The Board are stressing the fact that, while the referendum is for $5,181,000, only half of this amount is the municipal share. The Provincial Government pays the other half.

In September of this year the Board opened 49 classrooms and has more under construction. Cost of these classrooms was included in this year's budget and yet the 1956 school rate is down from 1955. Additional assessment will make the programme a relatively easy one to finance. The Department of Education pays 50 per cent of the capital debt charges up to the product of 10 mills of the total Municipal assessment value. The capital debt charges in excess of 10 mills are shared 75—25 with the Municipality paying the lesser amount.

As taxes for capital expenditures are based on the assessment value of the municipality and as that assessment value increases each year, the Board claim that the cost for capital debt should not increase taxes for the individual to any great extent.

If we are ever to get out of a state of emergency in the coming years to 1960 when school population could be nearly twice as big as it is today, we should make every effort to back this far-sighted plan of our School Board.

Good For You, Jaycees

It was most welcome news that the local Jaycees had come to the rescue of White Rock's reputation and taken on the responsibility for the current UGN campaign for funds.

The congratulations of all residents should be heartily accorded the group of young men who have shouldered this community job. Certainly, the least anyone can do is support them to the full.

If anyone finds difficulty in accepting his individual part in this project he should just ask himself one or two pertinent questions. For one, Would he deny a helping hand to a child struck down by a crippling disease? It is unlikely if anyone living in White Rock would do so. Yet that is what he will do if he shuts his door on UGN canvassers.

In following the "Good Neighbour" pattern of community giving, Canadians are merely travelling in the pioneer tradition of neighbourliness which is one of our most prized legacies.

We can't all help deserving cases by giving personally to them. But we can back the Jaycees in their efforts to bring the White Rock drive in line with giving in other parts of the area organized under the United Good Neighbour plan.

What Is So Rare?

It may be raining in truest B.C. fashion by the time this editorial is being read and all detractors of our west coast climate can cheerfully say "I told you so." Still nothing can rob us of this perfect day, October 21.

If we were asked "What is so rare as a day in June?" we think we would be inclined to say "A late October day." Such a day as last Sunday. The leaves in all their vivid glory were still clinging to the boughs; the sun shone gloriously over the bay where a white-sailed boat set its course towards Birch Point.

As the day drew to its close deep wine replaced the distant grape-blue of islands and mountains. And, as darkness fell, the moon rose over Mount Baker's snowy peak and cast its path of pearl across the waters of the Bay.

Yes, the Alps may be grander and the colours of the Mediterranean may be more deep and vivid. California may have more summer-like days as October approaches its final week. But nothing surely is more to be treasured than these hours of lingering beauty, here on the wooded slopes above Pacific waters.

At the risk of appearing greedy, we could only wish for many more to help ward off the approach of winter.

Care of the Gladiolus after Blooming

There is a great thrill for the gardener who grows a bed of gladioli or several rows of them, and he takes great care and pride in them as he watches them grow from the time he plants the bulbs, cultivating them, feeding and watering and weeding them, and his pleasure and excitement is great as the beautiful blooms start opening up. Then as the blooms begin to die and wither, his interest also dies down. He may cut down the dead spikes because they look untidy in the garden, and then often he will forget about them.

Yet, the four weeks after flowering is almost the most important period in the life cycle of the plant. This is the time when the new bulb is forming and taking in reserve nourishment to give good results the next year.

The plants should during this period receive sufficient watering and feeding and the ground kept clean.

We are usually told that the bulbs, or corms as they are called, should not be lifted until the leaves are showing three inches of brown tip. But in this mild climate the leaves will often stay green until Christmas, and lifting at that time may be a most unpleasant job.

The best plan is to give the gladioli a good four weeks in the ground after flowering, and more if the weather holds fair, but try and get them in before the rainy season begins.

Choose a fine day for digging, doing the work in the morning. Lift them carefully so as not to detach the baby bulblets from the parent plant, and let them lie on the ground exposed to the sun and wind till afternoon. Then take them up, shaking as much dry soil as will fall off naturally, and cut off the foliage close to the top of the corm with a pair of pruners.

There was a time when we were told to leave the foliage on until these were quite dead and brown, with the idea that the sap would run back into the corm, but we know now that this theory has been exploded and that any moisture in the leaves evaporates into the air. Also that any pests or diseases on the leaves will move down into the bulb as the leaves dry off.

The next step is to take the bulbs indoors and lay them out in flat trays or boxes, just as they are, without disturbing the soil or bulblets, and give them a dusting with an all-purpose garden dust to kill off any insect enemies and check rot diseases. Store for three or four weeks in a warm dry place, in a temperature not exceeding 70 degrees.

By this time the bulbs should be ready to clean off, pulling off the new bulb and bulblets of the old root stock. Lay them out on fresh trays and give them another dusting, and then store them in a cool dry place in a temperature not exceeding 45 or 50 degrees.

I have heard of gladioli being stored in old nylon stockings and hung up in a nice dry place. This is worth trying.

The board has been informed by municipal council that a $300,000 hospital construction by-law will probably go before voters November 3.

Delay in construction of the applications for the post of hospital administrator, hospital and resulting loss of interest was given as the reason the Delta Auxiliary returned its charter to the board.

A delegation from the auxiliary said they would attempt to revive the charter once construction has started and public interest is again revived. A cheque for $900, representing funds raised by the auxiliary, was also turned over to the board.

Kitchen Capers with Colour

HAVE FUN with your kitchen decoration. Imagination can transform ordinary utensils into delightful ornaments. Over a solid base coat of colour apply a design using odds and ends of bright enamel. Patterns can be traced from magazines and children's books.

Here's a new twist to the story of the ugly duckling: This time the hero is a home-frying pan that has outlived its day of usefulness on the stove. With some odds and ends of paint, it becomes a cheerful picture to brighten a kitchen wall! The person who wields the magic brush needn't be an artist—any housewife with a reasonably steady hand can do the trick. The idea is to give a coat of solid colour to a frying pan, muffin tin, or any other flat baking dish with an interesting shape. Then with bright coloured enamel and a small brush, add a gay design. If you've a flair for art, it is easy to create your own "original." But if drawing isn't one of your skills, simply trace a design on the pan and fill it in with colour. An illustrated children's book is a gold mine of simple yet attractive patterns.

USE COLOUR SCHEME
When choosing the background paint colour for these novelties, make sure it fits in with your kitchen colour scheme. You will need several colours for the design but most households have an assortment of left-over paint. Bright enamels can be bought in small tins from a paint dealer.

Before beginning to paint, remove all traces of grease from the tins with turpentine. Allow the background colour to dry thoroughly before beginning the design. If your artistic effort doesn't meet with your approval, simply erase it with a bit of turpentine on a cloth and try again.
By the way, drab flower pots respond well to the same treatment. Use the odds and ends of paint left over from your kitchen decoration. It's one good way to add interest to the room where a woman spends most of her busy day.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

It's not too early to start planning something for that night so all-important to the children in your household—or the neighbour's children, if all the young ones have "flown your nest" long ago. Perhaps this year you might like to vary the usual apples and candy routine for hand-outs to the "trick or treat" crowd who come ringing your door-bell on All Halloween. If so you might like to try this recipe for uncooked Brown Bettys which was given me by Mrs. David Hazlewood, of Ocean Park. She says she always makes them for Christmas and highly recommends them for children. Remember these are not cooked and if you have little ones in your home looking for something to do on a rainy day they could help make these sweet treats in preparation for the "big night."

BROWN BETTYS

1 lb. dates
1 lb. raisins
1 cup each walnuts, almonds and sugar

Marine Drive, Ocean Park.

The official symbol of the B.C. Centennial Committee released for use by all B.C. newspapers and local Centennial groups indicates official responsibility for making 1958 B.C.'s "biggest year ever." It is hoped all the 91 weekly and 11 daily papers in the Province will adopt the official crest for masthead use during Centennial year. It will be carried on all official documents also. The Crest is protected by Legislative Act and may only be used with written permission of the B.C. Centennial Committee. Any unauthorized use is subject to penalties provided by the Act. Reasons for the crest go deeper than mere advertisement. In every centennial celebration, jubilee, coronation celebration or other all-encompassing event, counter-feit activities have shown up. The official crest will guard against such things as merchants mistakenly buying advertising in souvenir publications which are actually in no way connected with official planning for the 1958 100th birthday of the Province. The dignified crest does its big job in a simple manner. Cyril Connorton, artist foreman at the Queen's Printer, was asked to submit some proposed designs to the Committee. After a dozen false starts he arrived at the design chosen by the Committee. Every line bespeaks the Province it represents.

"The trees," said Mr. Connorton, "are our heritage. The water is symbolic of the sea-coast and our mountains are shown too. The initials B.C. are on top, they can't be played too highly, and the dates of our first hundred years are also shown prominently."

All these surround the provincial emblem of the crown and Union Jack above a glowing sun.

The designer, Mr. Connorton, has been in the lithographic department at the Queen's Printer for 11 years; he has done designing for 31. Although he has done the beautiful illuminations on scrolls bearing welcome addresses for visiting royalty, he has painted the compelling scenery of B.C. on hundreds of travel folders and other far-reaching materials, nothing ever to come from his hand before will likely become so well-known as his design of the Centennial crest. And he is justly proud.

Chetwynd Increases Aid To Farmers

Effective October 1, farmers will receive an increased subsidy of $3 per ton on lime products which are used for soil amendment purposes, the Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. Ralph Chetwynd has announced. These must meet the minimum standard requirements set forth in the Lime Subsidy Policy regulations. This is an increase of $1 per ton.

Mr. Chetwynd further stated that effective also October 1st, the Department of Agriculture will pay a rebate of $3.75 per case on stumping powder or ditching dynamite to be used by farmers or ranchers for bringing land into agricultural production. This represents an increase of $1 per case.

FVMFA Offers Dairy Scholarships

Attendance in dairy industry courses in educational institutions has been declining and is alarmingly low at the present time. In an effort to correct a lack of suitable trained manpower in the dairy industry the FVMFA has this year offered two scholarships in the UBC Faculty of Agriculture.

One is to a student entering the Faculty for the first time. The other is to a dairy technology student in third or fourth year.

Thieves Make Big Cigarette Haul

Thieves forced entrance in the Super-Valu, Johnston Rd., last Wednesday night by breaking the double locks.

Loot taken consisted of several hundred cartons of cigarettes.

Entrance was made through the front door, stated Ralph Stevenson, manager, who discovered the break-in at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Board President E. Hope-Johnson, and members of the delegation claimed that Victoria has "procrastinated" concerning the issue and a stalemate now threatens unless a plebiscite can be submitted to the people at the December elections.

Reeve Nesbitt pointed out that the Council has indicated it is behind the plan to proceed with construction of the hospital, but he said:

"What we are concerned about, however, at this time is the problem of borrowing against the municipal credit before we get a definite guarantee from Victoria that their share of the costs will be forthcoming."

Victoria has claimed that while funds are available no sanction for a grant could be forthcoming until the house votes in favour of it at the next Legislative session.

Stalemate Faces Surrey Memorial Hospital

A nine-year delay in plans for construction of the Surrey Memorial Hospital was outlined at a special Council meeting on Monday night by a delegation from the Hospital Board.

Board President E. Hope-Johnson, and members of the delegation claimed that Victoria has "procrastinated" concerning the issue and a stalemate now threatens unless a plebiscite can be submitted to the people at the December elections.

Reeve Nesbitt pointed out that the Council has indicated it is behind the plan to proceed with construction of the hospital, but he said:

the building, literally "in a new light."

Inside, the Sanctuary displayed its festive colours and altar linens, and the large gold-lined altar cross, the brass vases and candlesticks gleamed in the lights. The altar flowers—the gift of Mr. R. H. Cooper—displayed their rich fall colours. The rendition of hymns, psalms and service by the choir, accompanied by Mrs. E. S. Suddes at the organ, was very pleasing.

Facility in following the congregational part of the service was provided by an excellent service booklet, the pictured cover of which was donated by Mr. A. Price Atkinson of the "Semiahmoo Sun," while the photograph of the Church, taken recently, featured the artistry of Garner's Studio.

After the service, the congregation adjourned to the Parish Hall where the ladies of the parish served refreshments, and parishioners and visitors enjoyed a social hour.
